in persecuting them. It is a fact not generally known," added the priest in a triumphant tone, "that Senator Barnum has given the Catholics here recently from $6,000 to $5,000.

But, while Father Lynch showed his joy'in this direction, there was a decided lack of cheerfulness in the way he discussed some other features of his "holy war." He is particularly embittered against the Connecticut Western railroad company. The priest has been exceedingly anxious to make the dedication of his convent on next Wednesday an event of sapreme importance in the history of Lakeville, and several weeks ago began to make his arrangements on a big scale, proposing to run special trains to the village over the Housatonic and the Connecticut Western railroads. His arrangements are completed with the Housatonic. It is Senator Barnum's road. But difficulties have confronted him at the Connecticut Western office.

The priest tells the story himself in the cabin that he could not see to read. He subsequently asked for the loan of the paper a second time, and is said to have worn a very terrified appearance from the moment that be knew that his identity was established. From what transpired in Cape Town, O'Donnell seems to have been satisfied as to his man, and in taking leave of Williams, who assured him that there could be no doubt on the matter, he again vowed that he would 'let daylight into the scoundrel before they got to the next port.'" Punity of the blood should be the aim of all. Impure blood means rheumatism, neuralgia, malarinand kidney disease. Acker's blood Elixir will The priest tells the story himself in this wise: "I requested Superinten-dent Jones of the Connecticut Western railroad to run an excursion train for me on the 5th to accommodate the people of Hartford and adjacent towns. He refused to do this unless I would pay him $200 in advance. This he did in order, if possible, to prevent me from getting the train, instigated, I have reason to believe, by other bigets who are mad because I will not incekly bow down to them and prak into bow down to them and break into fragments the image of our Savior. Mr. Jones knew, as these other people knew, that I had paid out large sums knew, that I had paid out large sums of money for my convent, and that my finances were a low ebb. They thought that I would be unable to raise that amount, but I have raised it and I will have that train. I also intended to have a picnic immediately after the dedication," said Father Lynch, "but the local steamboat company controls the only available.

boat company controls the only available grove, and they held a meeting and decided not to let me have it." Father Lynch went to Hartford a day or two ago, and had a conference with Bishop McMahon. The bishop treated him very cordially, and the priest returned to his parish more determined than ever to maintain his position and retain the cross with its full-sized figure out by the roadside. Bishop McMahon is not only to be here at the dedication next Wednes-day, but it is intimated in Catholic circles that he will preach a sermon pertinent to the existing war, and have something to say that will encourage the faithful to deeds of bravery.

The Protestants have lost none of their determination and are as emphatic as ever in denouncing Father Lynch's action. "No, we will not re-sort to force," said one of the leaders of the Protestant committee appointed to devise ways and means for the sup-pression of the tall image. "We will not resort to force or violence if it can be avoided, but that image must come down. It is a disgrace to this commu-nity and to this age. It has got to go. We are determined on that point."
Protestants suggest that Father

Lynch is playing a shrewd advertising game. They assert that the whole and the "bad man" was trouble has been browed by the reve-I to refire, looking somewhat rend gentleman with an eye single to sheak less. He hopes so attract the attention of the Catholics of the entire state, inspire them with enthusiasm, and rally them to his support, expect dent may have occasion to ing that they will so pour out the dollars generously. The Assassination of Carey. The Cape Argus of July 31, gives some interesting details of the ourward voyage of Carey in the Kinfauns Castle:—"A fellow passenger, named Williams, and one of the stewards of the ship, seemed both to have been struck with the resemblance of the man to the cpitures of Carey which they had seen in the illustrated papers, and the fact that his family was of the same number as Carey's, and that the eldest boy answered to the description given of him at the time when he appeared as a witness in the Dubin trials, tendered to confirm then in their sus-picions. Between Madeira and this port the steward and Williams made it their especial business to find out conclusively whether the man was the notorious character they believed him to be. They had plenty of oppor-tunities for doing this, as Carey and his wife freely induiged in liquor throughout the voyage, and the secret was wormed out of the children without much difficulty, so that a few days before the arrival of the Kinfauns Casthe in Table bay, all doubts were removed as to Mr. Power's identity. He shad an unlimited supply of ready cash, and both his wife and children were treated to anything they might desire. He said he was a war up here in William H.

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body, and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible. If disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the

These simple facts are well known, and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious. Brown's Iron Bitters will thoroughly and quickly assimilate with the blood, purifying and strengthen-ing it, and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth, cause headache or constipation, an' is positively not injurious.

SAVED HIM 1,809 DOLLARS. ADAMS, N. Y., Jan. 20, 1882.—Dr. R. J. Kra dall & Co., Gents—Having used a good deal of your Keedani's Spavin Cure with great snecess, I thought I would let you know what it has done for me. Two years ago I had as speedy a coll as was ever raised in Jefferson county. When I was breaking himbs kicked over the cross but and got fast and fore one of his hind legs all to pieces. I employed the best farriers, but they all said he was spoiled. He had a very large thorough pin, and I used two bottles of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, and it took the bunch entirely off, and he soid afterwards for Si896 (dollars). I have used it for bone spavins and windgalls, and it has always cared completely and left the leg smooth.

It is a Siendid medicine for rheumatism. I have recommended it to a good many, and they all say it does the work. I was in Witherington & Kneeland's drug store, in Adams, the other day, and saw a very fine p cture you scart them. I tried to ouy it, but could not; they said if I would write to you that you would, and I will do you all the good I can.

Very respectfully, E. S. LYMAN.

From the Akron Commercial, Ohio, of Nov.25th, 1882.

Readers of the Commercial canot well forget that a large space has for years been taken up by Kendali's advertisements—especially of a certain Spevin Cure. We have had designed with Dr. Kendali for many years, and we know of some large business bouses in cities near by, who have also dealt with him for many years, and the trath is fully and faithfully proven, not only that he is a good, honest man, and that his celebrated Spavin Cure is not only all that it is recommended to be, but that the English language is not capable of recommending it too highly.

Kendali's Spavin Cure will cure spavins. There are hundreds of cases in which that has been proven to our certain knowledge, but, after all, if any person confines the usculness of this celebrated medicine to curing spavins alone, they make a big mistake. It is the best medicine known as an outward application for rheumatism in the human family, it is good for pains and aches, swellings and lameness, and is just as safely applied to men, women and children as it is to borses. We know that there are other good liminents, but we do believe this spavin cure to be far better than any ever invented.

FORT WORTH, Texas, March 12, 1883,

Messra B. J. Keudall & Co.—About 8 months ago there was a valuable stallon brought to the stable of l'armes and Henry to be treated for a bone spavin which was one years growth and of pronounced size, and having learned through outside sources that your limiment known as Kendall's Spavin Cure was valuable, I commenced using it on the unlargement and after six weeks using and havin applied two bottles the horse was cured entirely, leaving the leg perfectly smooth.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

On Human Flesh.

On Human Flesh.

It has been used in thousands of cases on human flesh with such wonderful success that we now feel certain it is the best limment known for man, as it has sufficient strength to penetrate and virtue to cure the worst cases, which are not affected in the least by ordinary limments, and yet it does not other ereause a sore.

Veyay, Ind., Angust 12, 1881.—Dr. R. J. Rendall & Ob. Gonts-Sample of circulars received to-day. Pleass send me some with my imprint, printed on one side only. The Kendall's Spavin Cure is in excellent demand with us, and not only for unimals, but for human allments also. Mr. Jos. Voris, one of the leading farmers in our county, sprained an ankle badly, and knewing the value of the remedy for horses, tried it on himself, and it did far better than be had expected. Cared the sprain to very short order.
